

The Big Surprise

A Small Moment Story

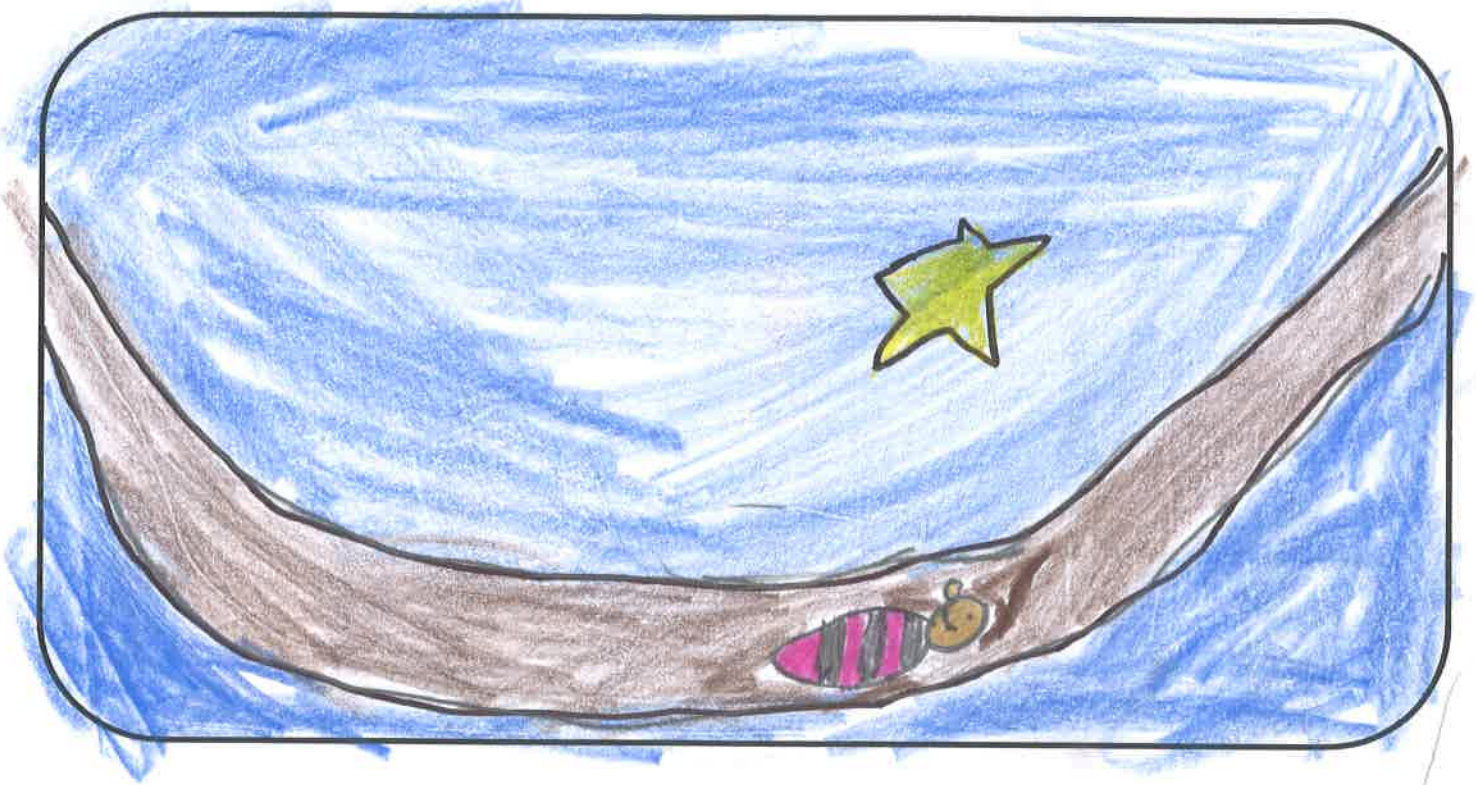

Written and Illustrated by:

Rhea Divekar

Name _____

Date _____

This is the day that you are born.
You eat cake on this day. You get to party. Would you like to know what happened in this story?

Name _____

Date _____

I was changing with my cousin sister. We were putting on makeup eyeshadow and lipstick. We were testing out new hair styles, pony tails and braids. I said "a braid bun would be nice with a tiara." We were beautiful as a peacock. While I was admiring myself in the mirror until I smelled treats like cake, and cupcakes, and a bowl of candy and light chocolates. I asked my cousin where was the smell coming from? My sister said "The cleaning ladies soap smells like sweets". I told my cousin I did not believe her. She told me it was our make up. Soon the smell went away. After awhile my baby cousin and my sister came in my room. They walked to me and hugged me. I picked them up and twirled around.

(2)

Name _____

Date _____

3

Name _____

Date _____

Name _____

Date _____

They started laughing. They were playful as a seal. I put them down. My brother came in the

Name _____

Date _____

room with a balloon. I asked him where he got the balloon from. He said "I got it from my suitcase". My cousins told "Rhe a it is time to go to the other room. I saw a doorway and I

(6)

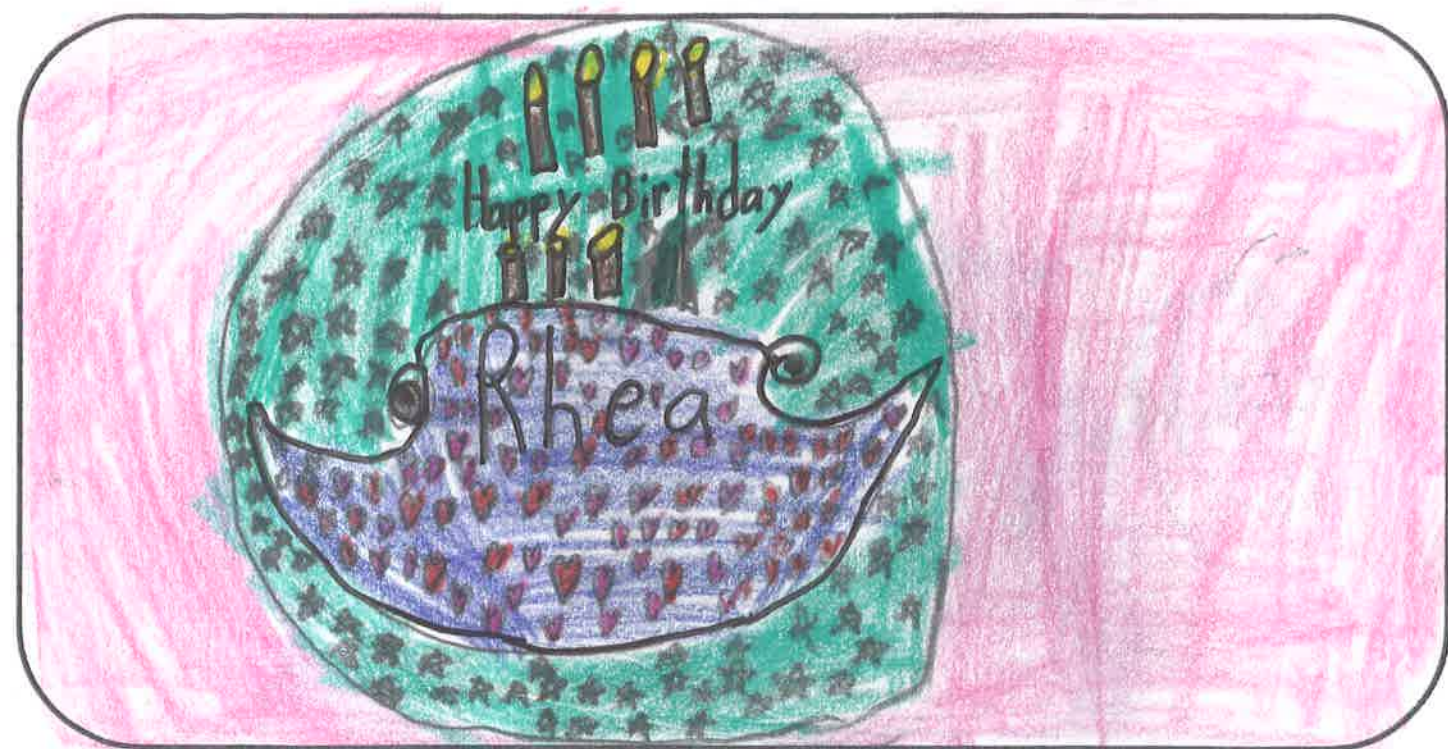

Name _____

Date _____

did not see any light. I walked through the door way. It was getting darker. I was scared. I thought that they were playing a trick on me. They took me to the other room. My heart was pounding.

Name _____ Date _____

Surprise! I saw there were confetti, cake and balloons. I ran in the room. I blew out the candles.
Every one was cheering. I ate so many loads of cake. We also played with balloons for so long.

This small moment was important because it was my first surprise birthday. If there was no wait time it would not have been fun. The wait time gave it more fun. I used a lot of patience to wait for the Surprise Birthday.

Doctor Office

party. You need patience evry day.

About the Author

My name is Rhea. I have one sister. My parents are Indian. This story was in India on July 29 on my birthday at a big resort. I was born in 2009. I love to swim because I am in the swim team. During my free time I like to write all types of books.